31st Sunday in Ordinary Time October 30th, 2022

This Tuesday, November 1st, is the Solemnity of All Saints. This day is dedicated to all those who have entered Heaven. This includes the saints recognized by the Church, and those known to God alone, especially our own beloved family and friends who have gone before us in faith.

On Wednesday, November 2nd, is the Feast of All Souls. This day is dedicated to those who have died and not yet reached Heaven. This is a day to commemorate, remember and pray for the dead.

The Solemnity of All Saints and the Feast of All Souls allow us to reflect on Christian hope as Pope Francis has spoken about in separate reflections on the two days.

“On this solemn Feast of All Saints, the Church invites us to reflect on the great hope, that is based on Christ’s Resurrection: Christ is risen and we will also be with him. The Saints and Blesseds are the most authoritative witnesses of Christian hope, because they lived it fully in their lives, amidst joys and sufferings, putting into practice the Beatitudes that Jesus preached.” (November 1, 2021 Angelus).

“Hope does not disappoint” (Rom 5:5), Paul told us. Hope draws us and gives meaning to our life. I do not see the afterlife, but hope is God’s gift that draws us toward life, toward eternal joy. Hope is an anchor that we have from the other side, and we, grasping the rope, sustain ourselves (cf. Heb 6:18-19). ‘I know that my Redeemer lives, and I shall see him’. And repeat this in times of joy and in bad times, in times of death, let us say this.

This certitude is a gift of God, because we can never have hope by our own efforts. We must ask for it. Hope is a freely given gift that we never deserve: it is given; it is offered. It is grace...

Today, in the thoughts of many brothers and sisters who have passed on, it will do us good to look at the cemeteries and to look heavenward. And to repeat, like Job: ‘I know that my Redeemer lives, and I myself will see him. My eyes shall behold him, and not another’. And this is the strength that hope gives us, this freely given gift that is the virtue of hope. May the Lord give it to all of us.” (November 2, 2020 Homily).

2022 Good Shepherd Campaign

This week, Archbishop LeGatt is launching the 2022 Good Shepherd Campaign, Awaken, in support of the formation of our seminarians and the many pastoral initiatives to foster a spiritual awakening in our parishes. We will be sharing information and testimonies over the next few weeks through our parish bulletin; this information will also be shared on the Archdiocesan website and Facebook page.

This week, we invite you to look at the Meet Our Seminarians poster and read the postcards with a photo and a quote from each of our seminarians about their vocation to the priesthood. We also invite you to visit the archdiocesan website and Facebook page to watch the videos featuring our most recently ordained priests, Fr. Paul Nguyen and Fr. Serge Buissé. Please note that the Good Shepherd Campaign special collection will be held on the weekend of November 19 & 20.

We invite you to pray for our seminarians as they continue to discern God's will in their lives and journey toward the priesthood.
